FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

COMMUNITY CHEST HELPS SENIORS REMAIN IN THEIR HOMES
The Chest renews funding for 2009 Senior Care Program

Visiting Homemakers of Bergen County announced the continued funding provided by Englewood, Englewood Cliffs, and Tenafly Community Chest Senior Care Program. The program, in its 20th year offers short term home care assistance to senior resident of Chest's participating towns of Englewood, Englewood Cliffs and Tenafly.

Visiting Homemaker Home Health Aide Service of Hackensack, provides certified home health aides to provide personal care, shopping, meal preparation, and assistance with activities of daily living. In addition, the agency provides a plan of care, advocacy, and linkages with other community resources enabling the senior to maintain independence and stay at home.

“The partnership between our agency and the Community Chest has been a long and productive one, helping many seniors remain in the community. They have provided a care option that has proven invaluable in stabilizing a senior crisis.” Remarked Susan McGibney, RN, the director of Visiting Homemakers.
