Visiting Homemaker Home Health Aide Service of Bergen County Receives Funding for Home Care Services

Visiting Homemaker Home Health Aide Service of Bergen County recently received two grants to help make it possible for people to remain living safely and independently at home despite their advanced age and disabilities.

The Wallerstein Foundation for Geriatric Life Improvement granted $10,000 for Emergency Respite for Caregivers in Crisis and Provident Bank awarded a grant in the amount of $1,000.00 to provide care at home for low-income residents of Bergen County.

Visiting Homemaker Home Health Aide Service of Bergen County is a non-profit agency that provides high quality, individualized home care including certified health aides, light housekeeping, help with hospital or post surgery discharge, or help so that a disabled person can attend a special family occasion. Since 1954, the agency has been helping the frail elderly and sick or disabled individuals of all ages to remain living safely in the comfort of home. For further information about Visiting Homemaker or any of the agency's services contact Renay Stafford, Intake Coordinator, 201-488-0041, ext. 12 or stafford@vhsbc.com.
